MASTER'S TRESTLE BOARD

Brethren,

Casual night this month, brothers. We usually have it in January but due to the 3rd degree in last month, we postponed it until February. Congratulations to our newly raised brother, Dan MacDonald. Thanks to all who assisted including the Western Star drama team that did such a fine job.

As our election of officers for 2012-13 is coming up in March, I would like to have a meeting our Advisory Board which is made up our Past Masters as well as the Senior & Junior Warden. We will meet at 6:30 on the night of our Lodge night and I ask everybody make a strong effort to attend. Thank you.

That's it for now. See you all on Feb. 2nd, 2012.

Fraternally yours,

W.B. Paul McCracken

CASUAL NIGHT

Tonight we will be dressing down a bit and enjoying a casual evening. So properly clothed will mean the jewel of your office and an apron worn as a master mason. Feel free to lose the tie and come have a relaxing evening of fellowship.

MASONIC HISTORY

There is little but tradition regarding Freemasonry in North America prior to 1750. Setting aside an inscribed stone dated 1606 from Goat Island, Nova Scotia; ambiguous Plymouth County records from 1654; and the Rev. Edward Peterson's claims for a Rhode Island lodge in 1658, the first reference to a freemason in North America is Jonathan Belcher, born in Boston in 1681, who was initiated into an "occasional lodge" while travelling in Europe in 1704, making him, upon his return to Boston in 1705, the "Senior Freemason of America".

"There is some claim that Lord Alexander, Viscount Canada (d. 1638)—who was admitted into the Lodge of Edinburgh on the 3rd of July, 1634—established a lodge in the colony on the banks of the St. Lawrence, but there is no trace."<sup>2</sup>

"The first Lodge meeting in the western hemisphere, the knowledge of which is supported by something more than pure tradition, was probably held in King's Chapel, Boston, in 1720."<sup>3</sup>

From 1721 there are newspaper accounts of masonic affairs, implying that Freemasonry was of public interest and that there were freemasons in the colonies. A number of members of the lodge meeting in King's Chapel, Boston relocated to Nova Scotia after 1713 and may well have held occasional lodges in their new home.
